

Final Friday fest of the season rocks

The Anna Maria Island Friday Musical Festival, sponsored by the Anna Maria Island Sun, drew a huge crowd last weekend with great food, lots of vendors, refreshment and music. They had some problems keeping the volume down, which organizer Cindy Thompson said would not be a problem at the next Friday Fest next season. Rory Miller began the evening followed by FireDoor, HWY 41 with Danielle Hollobaugh and finally the Blues Alternators Band. Stay tuned for more information on the next Friday Music Festival.

Above: The place was packed by 7 p.m., before the sun went down.

Right: Danielle Hollobaugh brought her emotion-packed voice to the festival with the band HWY 41.

Left: Richard and Barbara Hines, who had a tent selling her artwork, dance to the sounds of Sinatra before the live bands took the stage.

SUN PHOTOS/TOM VAUGHT

